

A new platform for families of visually impaired children and young people (0-25 years)

Our free online community includes a closed families Facebook group and a series of online sessions facilitated by our team of RSBC Family Practitioners.

What to Expect

- Peer support
- Empowering each other
- Psychoeducation
- Sharing wisdom and experience
- Discussing the challenges of raising a child with a visual impairment
- Open advice forum – no question is too big, small or embarrassing

Monthly online sessions

To register email familiesfirst@rsbc.org.uk

“Thank you for organising this. The facilitators were amazing and had some excellent and creative advice, and chatted like they were a parent of a VI child rather than there to just give advice on a work level.”

Parent participant

“It's been a really positive experience listening to everyone's worries and advice this evening – thank you.
It's made me realise how much more we still have to journey through but also helped me know that I'm not alone in that journey.”

Parent participant

“I think that this will be a great thing moving forward.
Hopefully more people will join in the future.”
